SEPTIC SEWER SYSTEM CARE AND MAINTENANCE ADDENDUM

The following are not to be used or disposed of in your septic or sewer system:

1. Grease, fats, oils, pesticides, herbicides, or any other toxins.
2. Paints, household chemicals or automobile fluids.
3. Citrus products (oranges, lemons, grapefruits, etc.)
4. Non-biodegradable items such as: cigarette butts, disposable diapers, baby wipes toilet cleaning wipes, feminine hygiene products, condoms, hair, coffee grounds, rags, paper towels, bandages, clothing, toys, toiletry articles, etc.
5. Additives sold in advertising for septic systems. They do more harm to the drain field than good to the tank.
6. Home brewery waste, strong medicines, and antibiotics. Antibacterial soaps and wipes should also be avoided.
7. Strong disinfectants or bleaches.
8. Laundry products such as: Lysol. Pine Sol. Murphy's wood oil soap. Downey, Snuggle and water softeners
9. Drain cleaners such as Drano.
10. Mop water.
11. Garbage disposals are prohibited.

The following practices and products are acceptable:

1. Spread your laundry loads out over the week, choosing one day weekly to do all the bleaching. Excessive water discharge into the system is known as hydraulic overload and is the number one cause of drain field failure. Just one cup of bleach in a 1,000-gallon tank kills 80 percent of the tank for up to 72 hours. So, bleaching on one day gives the tank time to recover.
2. Recommended detergents are liquid, low sudsing, low phosphate and biodegradable, such as washing soda ingredients (Examples: Gain, Dash, Arm and Hammer, Fresh Start and Bright). Use fabric softener dryer sheets instead of liquids in the washer.
3. Recommended cleaning products are liquid, non-chlorine, biodegradable and non-toxic such as Ivory and Sunlight, or Powdered cleansers such as Biz, Comet, and baking soda.

The septic system is the property of the landlord. Landlord is responsible for maintaining it in good working order. Landlord does not authorize tenant to perform maintenance of any sort on the septic system. Tenants are not to tamper with septic tank lids, risers, cleanouts, or filters. Tenant is to exercise precautions to prevent anyone from driving on the septic tank lids or clean outs or drain fields or damaging them in any way.

Failure to follow these guidelines will result in clogs, sluggish draining, system failure, and/or sewage spillage. Tenant hereby agrees to follow these guidelines. If tenant neglects or abuses their septic system resulting in any of the above conditions, landlord will immediately cure the problem, and tenant will be charged accordingly. If more than one tenant is on the same system, then charges will be divided among them equally. The tenant agrees to pay such charges on or before the next rental due date. Failure to pay for the charges in addition to the following month's rent is grounds for eviction. The tenant further agrees that said charges will be prioritized first prior to applying any funds towards rent.
